The San Juan Hill climber is now so quiet that it is hard to believe that strenuosity could get that way.

A dispatch from Hartford says the Democrats want $150,000 to carry Connecticut. We wish we had the money.

We haven't hardly got the heart to turn our blunderbuss on Roosevelt since the Democrats have got him on the run.

Roosevelt's spellbinders seem to be as frightened as the Baltic fleet. The spellbinders are now taking crazy shots at flying rumors.

In another campaign the Republicans will hardly have the temerity to poke a Democratic presidential nominee to see if he can talk.

Says the Baltimore Sun: "It has been understood the United States went to Panama to construct a canal and not to dig up trouble." When the United States goes away from home its guarantee of safety is a Democratic guardian.

We are about to lose all the hair out of our pompadour in the effort to get it into our head how Roosevelt has busted the trusts and yet they are standing by their buster with such smiling equanimity. Surely Roosey must see that the trusts treat his pretentions with disdainful support.

Andrew Carnegie is going to vote for Roosevelt. With Roosevelt running on a platform that stands pat on taxing the people $7 a ton on steel rails and levies tribute on all other steel products for the benefit of the Steel Trust, Carnegie would be a fit subject for first aid to the conscience stricken if he voted for Parker.

Great Britain's fishermen may belong to an humble class but the criminal mistake of the Russian Baltic fleet in firing into and killing two, wounding twenty and sinking some of the trawlers, has aroused the indignation and ire of the whole British empire—King, cabinet officers, statesmen, nobility and gentry. Old England is one and we are glad to see it.

Man and Wife Fighting.

Early last night as Desk Sergeant Geo. H. Ward was on his way home from the police station for the night, he came upon a lively affray at Fifth and Brunswick streets. The horse show of the Forepaugh and Sells Brothers exhibition deserves more than passing mention. It has possibly the most numerous and magnificent collection of its kind, in which the most noted, noblest and most beautiful breeds are conspicuous. Many of them, too, have been taught to perform the most intricate and dainty feats, including the genuine cake-walk, which the New York press pronounced inimitable.

JURY OUT ALL NIGHT.

Unable to Agree Upon Verdict in the Case of B. F. Penny Vs. A. C. L. Railroad.

ANOTHER DAY OF ARGUMENT.

Retired With Issues Little After 5 O'clock Yesterday Afternoon and Still Out. Case Against the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad.

The Penny damage suit in the Superior Court has at last gone to the jury, but at an early hour this morning no agreement had been reached and a mistrial of the case is wholly within the range of probability. The issues which the jurors are making a vain attempt to answer to the satisfaction of all are these:

1. Was the plaintiff injured by the negligence of the defendant?
2. Did the plaintiff by his own negligence contribute to his injury?
3. What damage if any, has plaintiff sustained?

The case went to the jury a few minutes after 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon after a very clear and comprehensive charge of more than an hour by Judge Moore. All the morning and a part of the afternoon had been taken up with the conclusion of the argument by counsel. Mr. Junius Davis completed his address first thing upon the opening of court and he was followed by Herbert McClammy, Esq., for the plaintiff, who excoriated counsel on the other side for allusions on several points in previous speeches and made an eloquent plea in behalf of his client. Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy followed for the railroad in one of the strongest speeches delivered in the case. He spoke with fervor and convincing power. Mr. Marsden Bellamy closed all the argument with a beautiful presentation of the case for the plaintiff. A number of spectators gathered in the court room during the morning to hear the closing speeches by the "big guns," as they chose to denominate those of the attorneys reserved for the last.

Judge Moore delivered his charge in most fluent language but with a careful deliberation. It was considered very fair to each side. The charge was taken in shorthand by Miss Stella Shrier. The jury which retired with the case, as previously published, was as follows: H. W. Howell, R. A. Burnett, John C. Heyer, D. A. Penton, G. C. Simmons, E. M. Sleeper, E. L. Davis, G. B. Myers, W. H. Northrop, Jr., S. S. Drew, A. Millinor and J. C. Bordeaux.

It was seen early that an agreement would not be reached soon, and Deputy Sheriff W. H. Cox was sworn as bailiff of the jury. They were given supper at The Only Restaurant early last night and they remained up late at the Court House in an effort to reach a verdict, but finally gave it up and went to sleep on cots furnished in the judge's and solicitor's rooms.

When the jury had retired, although the hour was late, Judge Moore took up the clalendar of cases set for trial during the day. All others were called and continued except that of O. L. Clark, of Clarkton, vs. the Delaware and Lackawanna Railroad Company, the trial of which was entered upon, Hon. Jno. D. Bellamy and Messrs. Rountree & Carr appearing for the plaintiff and Jno. D. Shaw, Jr., Esq., of Laurinburg, for the defendant railroad. The cases continued were: City of Wilmington, vs. Iredell Meares, et al; A. C. Neilson vs. Southern Express.; United Sons & Daughters of Salem vs. Fletcher Pittman; United Sons & Daughters of Salem vs. F. A. Pittman, et al.

The railroad case of Mr. Clark is for the recovery of $3,468.47 alleged to be due for cross-ties shipped to the defendant in January or February of this year. The railroad denies the existence of a contract and the plaintiff contends that he has letters from the company accepting the ties and which amounts to a contract. The ties were originally gotten out for the Standard Pole & Tie Co., but at the suggestion of the manager of the latter company they were shipped in a vessel to the railroad in plaintiff's own name and with the understanding that they were to remain his property until check in payment for the same or guarantee was received. It will be remembered that Mr. Clark had certain cars of the defendant railroad attached here last Winter for the debt, and that the company at once gave bond and had them released. Mr. O. L. Clark went on the stand first yesterday and testified in his own behalf. One other witness for the plaintiff was introduced and gave in his testimony, after which, at 6:30 o'clock, the court took a recess until this morning. Purchasing agent George F. Wilson and one or two other employes of the road are here to testify in the suit.

Cases set for trial to-day are as follows: Penich & Ford vs. John W. Plummer, Jr.; Stone & Co. vs. Clyde S. S. Co.; J. J. Farrow vs. Peter Simpson; Covington Cigar Co. vs. J. C. Shepard.

The following jurors were summoned for service yesterday, most of whom are now serving on the Clark case, viz.: Messrs. C. C. Parker, L. E. Hall, W. F. Corbett, H. F. Farrow, W. H. C. Hodges, W. P. Carroll, J. C. Anderson and L. Hanson.

The following were returned as not found: E. T. Huggins, L. G. Bissinger, J. H. Hewett, W. L. Parsley, Henry A. Field and B. W. Dunham. Messrs. Louis E. Hall and W. H. C. Hodges were excused by law.

The demand in the complaint and court costs having been paid, upon motion of City Attorney Bellamy, a retraxit was taken in the case of City of Wilmington vs. B. H. J. Ahrens, Mrs. Anna Grant, Miss Florence Lawton and R. H. Grant.

THE REPUBLICAN SPEAKING.

Less Than Fifty People Heard Congressional Nominee Spears Last Night in the Academy of Music.

Those who went to the Academy of Music last night expecting Mr. Oscar J. Spears, Republican nominee for Congress in this district, to deny or affirm his statement at the nominating convention at Fayetteville, that he thanked God for a President good enough and great enough to dine with Booker Washington, were disappointed, for the "wily statesman from Harnett" steered scrupulously clear of the race problem. From the prominence given his utterance at Fayetteville, it was expected that he would either deny the charge or attempt some sort of an apology for an expression necessarily so distasteful to every Southern white man and even to a great many colored people who have not the social equality ambitions of the much-tooted Booker. But Mr. Spears confined himself to other subject matter. The speech was without an incident.

There were 37 people in the parquet of the theatre to hear the address, including two boys and four colored brethren who climbed to the gallery and hung on the speaker's words for a few minutes, but left before the meeting was over. It is fair to say that Mr. Spears indulged in no abuse of his opponents and made a gentlemanly speech from a Republican standpoint. He declared his fidelity to the party, gave a short sketch of himself, berated Mr. Patterson in a gentle way for not accepting his challenge to a joint canvass of the district; spoke rather hopelessly of his own chances of election but promised, if he were elected, little more than to make the town of Duke, on the Cape Fear river above Fayetteville, a port of entry; said that if the Democratic column was robbed of the Confederate States it wouldn't have a corporal's guard left; gloried in the fact that his first vote had been cast for Ulysses S. Grant, and closed with a poetical quotation as to North Carolina that provoked only mild applause. But the speaker was not to blame for the lack of enthusiasm. To speak with long rows of empty benches glaring him in the face, a rather cold and raw night and absolutely no apparent response from his audience was a task that few public men would like to perform.

Republican elector Musselwhite accompanied the speaker and briefly announced himself at the outset. Chairman T. E. Wallace, of the Republican Executive Committee of the county, a quizzical smile on his countenance, presided over the meeting and introduced the speakers. Mr. Spears spoke at Fayetteville night before last and will go to Southport to speak this evening. Mr. Spears was for several years Assistant District Attorney of the United States Court and has many personal but few political friends here, else his audience would have been much larger.

Brass, Sometimes Called "Gall."

"Gold and silver have I none, but brass a plenty." That old saw would well apply to a negro who visited the sheriff's office yesterday. He was convicted about a year ago of stealing some shoes from the Clyde steamer's wharf and was sent to the roads for a good long term. His term expired yesterday and no sooner had he been released than he straightway betook himself to the Court House and boldly asked Mr. Bunting in the sheriff's office if he couldn't get "dem shoes." To the inquiry, what shoes? the negro replied, "dat pair I've just come off de road for stealin' from the Clyde steamship." Mr. Bunting replied most emphatically no, and the negro went away with an aggrieved expression on his countenance.

First Football Game.

The first football game of the season was played yesterday afternoon at Hilton Park between the Sophomore team and a picked team from the Senior, Junior and Freshman classes of the Wilmington High School. The game was an interesting exhibition of the great national Winter sport and was won by the lusty Sophomores in a score of 15 to 0. Other games are being arranged to be played later.

THE OPENING DANCE.

Beautiful German by L'Arioso Club Last Night Inaugurates the Season of 1904-05.

OVER FIFTY COUPLES THERE.

Figures Led by Mr. Clayton Giles—Music by Hollowbush's Academy Orchestra and Decorations of Very Pretty Nature—Bright Prospects.

The opening dance of the season by L'Arioso German Club in the handsome Masonic Temple ball room last night was a bright augury for the many other delightful events of like character that are to follow at stated intervals during the Winter. The hall was very tastefully decorated for the occasion and the bright costumes of the ladies and the assemblage of gallant young male devotees of the "light fantastic" made a picture of which the club might well have been proud as an inaugural of the dancing season of 1904-05 in Wilmington. More than fifty couples shared in the pleasures of the dance, which was to excellent music by Hollowbush's Academy Orchestra. Mr. Clayton Giles, Jr., the clever leader, introduced a number of elaborate and intricate figures, which were worked out with delightful ease and grace.

Among those present and dancing were: Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Bidgood, Miss Nellie Emerson and Mr. Richard Bradley; Miss Mary Calder, and Mr. John Jay Blair; Miss Irwin Bridgers, of Tarboro, and Mr. H. M. Chase; Miss Anita DeRosset and Mr. W. C. Crow; Miss Nepple Borden and Mr. Platt W. Davis; Miss Elliott Emerson and Capt. C. McD. Davis, Miss Tallulah DeRosset and Mr. T. W. Davis; Miss Olive Armstrong and Mr. F. S. DuPre; Miss Octavia Boatwright and Mr. R. H. Gwaltney; Miss May Ella Rankin and Dr. T. M. Green; Capt. and Mrs. R. P. Johnson; Miss Anna Parsley and Mr. H. L'Arioso Club begins the season with brighter prospects than ever. A large number of applications for membership are on file and a postal card vote is being taken upon the question of a constitutional amendment by which it will be possible to increase the limit of members and advance the dues. For the sake of preserving the exclusiveness of the club, the sentiment is said to be largely against the proposed amendment.

LABAREE'S FAILURE.

Statement from New York as to Brokerage Firm Doing Business Here.

The Charlotte Observer of yesterday has the following special telegram from New York relative to the failure of Larabee & Co.:

NEW YORK, Oct. 27.—With liabilities estimated at half a million dollars or more, J. Walter Larabee & Co., brokers, to day closed their doors. Larabee has been missing for a week, his friends professing ignorance as to his whereabouts. Larabee, who was the whole firm, ran one of the largest "bucket shop" concerns in the country. Its branches were located in scores of cities and towns, but principally throughout the South. These included Charlotte, Greensboro, Salisbury and Gastonia, in North Carolina; Spartanburg and Greenville, S. C., and towns further South.

The concern did an enormous business and reaped rich profits until the recent bull movement. When the customers began to take profits Larabee went away. He failed to appear a week ago to-day, and his manager on examination, discovered that everything of value had disappeared. The following day the manager notified all the customers who sent agents to New York at once.

At a creditors' meeting to-day representatives from Charlotte and other Southern towns were present. Each presented estimates of losses and from these it was figured that the total liabilities would approximate $500,000. A committee called on the police and detectives were put on the trail of the missing broker. The law firm of Cantor, McIntyre & Adams has been retained to look after the interests of the creditors.

Stephen Callahan, for Larabee, said to day that his client's assets probably were between six and seven thousand dollars, with liabilities of $123,000. He said that Larabee & Co. had 70 branch offices extending all the way from Toronto, Canada, to New Orleans. The firm's leased wires, he states, cost some $10,000 a month. The cause of the firm's suspension, according to Mr. Callahan, was that they were short of a long line of stocks.

GREAT PROBLEM PLAY "IRIS."

Pinero's Greatest Production Coming to Academy Here Tuesday Evening.

It is but natural that uncommon attention should be drawn to the approaching presentation at the Academy Tuesday night of Mr. Pinero's greatly discussed problem play, "Iris," largely because the play emanates from the pen of this distinguished author, an English dramatist who is almost without a peer in the special social field to which he has so industriously applied his genius. There seems to be no difference of opinion in admitting that Mr. Pinero has acquired a most decided mastery of the technique of his art and is himself so much abreast of the thought of his time in his choice of subjects for dramatic treatment in his series of plays, that his public may be sure of something original, inspiring a new idea, and may also be sure that the expression of the idea will not fail to be made dramatically interesting. Mr. Pinero's position as a dramatic writer is known to give him an entire independence in the presentation of his work.

The sale of seats will commence at at Plummer's Monday morning. The first seven rows down stairs will be $1.50, but regular prices will apply to the other seats.

Mr. Stuart Pemberton Home.

Yesterday afternoon's Fayetteville Observer: "Mr. Stuart Pemberton, who was injured on the grounds of the St. Louis Exposition by being run over by an automobile and who since then has been in a hospital in St. Louis, arrived home yesterday afternoon. He is fast recovering from the severe injuries sustained, though he has to use a pair of crutches to get about with yet."

SAMPLE OF MILITARY LAW.

The experience of Private Clarence Fields, a United States soldier, illustrates what military law is. He had done good service in the Philippines, but one day while he was on sentry duty at Catbaglogan, in the Island of Samar, a Filipino snatched his rifle away from him. He killed the Filipino, and a court martial partly exhonerated him and assessed a trifling penalty. However, when the case was referred to Gen. Fred Grant he overruled the finding and sentenced Fields to 50 years in prison. Fields declares that this was done because two sisters of the man he killed were in the employ of Gen. Grant.

The case is brought to the surface again in a dispatch from San Francisco, October 26th, announcing that Fields had been pardoned from the Alcatraz military prison, in that city, by order of President Roosevelt.

For three years Fields was imprisoned in the Bilibid prison in Samar. The San Francisco dispatch goes on to say that the pardoned soldier, who is a son of Mrs. Rhoda Fields, of Englewood, N. J., ascribes much of his harsh usage during his three years in the Bilibid prison to the malice of Major Frank Carrington and wife. Life in Bilibid prison was torture, according to Fields, because of Major Carrington's wife. He says she inspected the prisoners every day, and for the slightest fault condemned men to thirty days on bread and water. Fields charges that Carrington took his bank book and confiscated $287 belonging to him. He accused Carrington of holding out tobacco and other things from the prisoners and making the men buy these things from him. Major Carrington is now in Manila awaiting trial on charges of irregularities in his accounts.

In war times men not only run the risk of their lives and health, but it appears that the circumstances make it possible for an officer, at his own autocratic will, to set aside the finding of a court martial and sentence a man to prison for life.

SOUVENIRS OF THE NEXT PRESIDENT.

One evening recently while Judge Parker was in New York city, he accompanied some friends over to the East Side and attended the Yiddish theatre. The people over there are now making a great to do over it. When the show was over Judge Parker dined at a restaurant known as the "East Side Sheny's." Next day thousands of sight-seers came to look at the place where a Democratic candidate for the presidency had partaken of an humble meal. The enterprising proprietor has roped off that table and its chairs. He proposes to keep them reserved till after the election. Then table, chairs, dishes and other paraphernalia will be disposed of as souvenirs to friends.

Those souvenirs may be pointed to with pride by those who get them, for Parker is likely to be the next President.

THE DEMOCRATIC CHALLENGE

The people of America would like to know who foots the bill for Roosevelt's campaign. They can know if the Republican managers will accept a challenge from the Hon. DeLancey Nicoll, of New York, vice-chairman of the National Democratic Committee.

Mr. Nicoll declares that he will open the Democratic subscription books and give the name of every campaign contributor, if Chairman Cortelyou will do the same. He states that he will not wait till the election is over but will open the books now.

The people of the United States need never be told that Geo. B. Cortelyou will fight shy of Nicoll's challenge with more agility than he would the head of a rattlesnake Nicoll's pronouncement, following the sensational charge of Judge Parker that the trusts were ruling the country by means of subscriptions to party funds, has been declared by old-time politicians to be unprecedented. Many assert that to divulge the names of the interests that are financing the campaign would be a breach of confidence, and would deprive the party of its principal sources of income forever.

We do not know but that would be the best result to be attained, and it yet may come to pass that Congress will be called upon to pass an act requiring the names of contributors to campaign funds to be laid bare to the people. If elections are to be debauched that might be one means for the safety of the Republic.

TAFT'S TWADDLE.

Now comes Secretary Taft to say that Parker could not free the Philippines if elected, as a Republican senate will be in the way. Republicans have so long recognized that Roosevelt is all powerful that they have got it into their heads that Parker doesn't know any better than that he could give the Philippines their independence. If the American voters say so by their ballots, however, it would be very foolish for a Republican Senate to brook the will of the people. Judge Parker knows better than Secretary Taft that it would require more than an "executive order" to grant independence to the Philippines. The American people ought to be tired of twaddle like that from Taft.

COTTON MARKETS.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.—It was a very quiet but generally steady day in the cotton market. The opening was firm at unchanged prices to an advance of seven points, or rather better than due on the cables as a result of more optimistic views of the European situation and reports of more or less general frosts in the central and western belts. There was comparatively little cotton for sale and following the call the market continued to advance on a steady demand through wire and commission houses and covering of room shorts. The larger operators did not appear to be taking any very active part in the trading. Some of the New Orleans operators were evidently buying in a moderate way as though testing the remaining short interests. Cables continued steady after the local opening, and when it was seen that interior receipts were running a little lighter, local prices increased their gain. The highest point was in the late trading, when January sold at 9.80 and March at 9.89. The close was a little down from the best, but steady at a net advance of six to twelve points. Sales werere estimated at 150,000 bales. There were rumors circulating in the afternoon that the Fall River strike had been broken and that the mills there would start up on full after the first of the month. This rumor was not confirmed from official sources.

They tell about it. Read what this citizen says:

J. S. King, clerk on Market street residing at 815 Orange street, says: "I used Doan's Ointment and found it to be a great remedy for itching hemorrhoids. It acted like a charm in my case. I tried all kinds of remedies but until I used Doan's Ointment I could get nothing to give me positive relief. It is a splendid preparation and you are welcome to use my name as one who says. I obtained it at R. R. Bellamy's drug store."

Have You THESE SYMPTOMS?

There's Danger Ahead.

If you have sharpe pains across the small of the back, if there is any irregularity in the urine, if it is scanty or profuse, or difficult to retain, then your kidneys are out of order and should be given prompt attention. There is no disease so surely fatal if neglected. Diseases of the bladder, such as inflammation, gravel or stone in the bladder, diabetes, and finally uremic poisoning, usually begin in a very slight way at first, often causing no particular inconvenience.

Stuart's Gin and Buchu is a reliable remedy for any form of kidney and bladder diseases. It has been given the severest tests for thirty years, and has never failed to relieve the worst case and stay the fatal progress of the disease. If you have the slightest smyptom of this disease, you should lose no time in beginning the use of this remedy. One bottle will convince you of the great benefit it will render. Stuart's Juniper and Buchu Tablets is the same remedy in tablet form for those who prefer it in that shape.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

— Durham Herald: That Georgia captain has only been dismissed from the service, while if he had fired on the mob he might have been run out of the country.

— Greensboro Telegram: We see Raleigh is going to have a new auditorium, or is talking of having one. It has already improved its hotel facilities. But it will never be able to get around the fact that Greensboro is centrally located.

— Lumberton Argus: Well, if Jim Tillman wants to preach, his case would not be much stronger than Paul's, who held the cloaks of the slayers of Stephen. Paul made a first-rate preacher, and if Mr. Tillman is converted he would probably do—not altogether so well, but better than some of us do.

— Col. E. J. Parrish, who held an important position with the American Tobacco Company in Japan for several years, is returning to his home in Durham with his family. The Japanese government having the control of the tobacco business now, the American Tobacco Company has withdrawn their forces from that country.

— A special of the 25th from Bakersville to The Morning Post of Raleigh, says that there was a snow in that town on the morning of the 25th, the mercury registered 14 above zero. That is remarkably cold weather for this time of the year when it is considered extremely cold in Eastern North Carolina when the temperature even gets down to 18 or 20 degrees.

— The Jones Onslow Union of the Christian church will meet at Dover, N. C., on Sunday before the 5th Lord's Day in the present month, and on Sunday the new church building will be dedicated to God. Dr. J. C. Coggins, former president of the Atlantic Christian College will preach the dedication sermon.

— Commissioner of Agriculture Patterson, at Raleigh, says the sales of fertilizers for fall crops are about an average. He says he does not believe as much wheat will be planted this fall as usual, by reason of the severe drought, which has rendered plowing impossible in many counties, particularly in the west, where the drought has been most severe.

— The announcement in Charity and Children of this week, that the typhoid fever situation at the Baptist Orphanage at Thomasville shows "considerable improvement" over that of a week ago, will be received everywhere in the State with unmixed pleasure. The little people there have had a stormy time of it, but it is a cause for congratulation and gratitude that, though the scourge has been dreadful, the fatalities have been few.

— Sherman Jolly, the negro convict who was so badly cut by Archie McIver, a fellow prisoner, died Wednesday morning in the penitentiary at Raleigh. Jolly was serving forty years for murder in the second degree and McIver, by whom he was cut, was serving twenty years, also for murder in the second degree. The coroner is holding an inquest. McIver will be tried later for his life. Jolly was sent from Cleveland, and McIver, his slayer, is from Montgomery.

— Frank Carter and Hugh Chedester returned to Asheville on Wednesday from a stay of several days in the Black Mountain section. While away they climbed Gray Beard and Mt. Mitchell, and Mr. Carter states that the drought was the severest ever known. "Several springs have failed," said he, "that have never before been known to be dry. The spring near the top of Mt. Mitchell, where campers usually stop, has failed completely, while the Stepp spring, further down the side, furnished but little water. Numbers of springs all through the mountains have failed, while others are very low."

— Raleigh Times: Gov. Aycock can well afford to appreciate the compliments of President Middleton and Vice-President King, in their remarks yesterday opening the colored State Fair. These remarks were so simple, so artless, that their sincerity was at once apparent. This comes because Governor Aycock has been honest and straightforward in in his dealings with these people and has found no reason for playing the demagogue in any matter that pertaining to them, either as voters, as laborers, or as subjects to be taught in the schools. Virtue brings its own reward, and the man who is honest, truthful and faithful in the dealings will win in the end.

— Raleigh News and Observer, October 27: While Mr. and Mrs. C. Bruce Wright were at the Academy of Music last night there was a bold robbery at their home on east Edenton street. After Mr. and Mrs. Wright left the servant and children went across the street to Mr. Ferrall's. It was at this time that a robber entered the house and entered the room adjoining Mrs. Wrights. Here he gathered up some jewelry, but just at this time the servant returned. As she entered the room the robber rushed past her and escaped. Search revealed that he had secured two gold watches, two diamond pins, one pair of pearl and one pair of gold earnings, a gold chain and a pistol. In the adjoining room was a large collection of jewelry, worth $1.700. It was only the fortunate return to the house that scared the burglar off with part of his booty.

Testimony of a Minister.

Rev. Jno. S. Cox, of Wake, Ark., writes: "For twelve years I suffered from yellow jaundice. I consulted a number of physicians and tried all sorts of medicines, but got no relief. Then I began the use of Electric Bitters, and feel that I am now cured of a disease that had me in its grasp for twelve years." If you want a reliable medicine for Liver and Kidney trouble, stomach disorder or general debility, get Electric Bitters. It is guaranteed by R. R. BELLAMY, druggist. Only 50c. †

Dr. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION FOR WEAK WOMEN.

— Charlotte Observer, Oct. 28th: When the case of the young woman who was arrested for shop-lifting was called yesterday in the recorder's court, Mr. Heriot Clarkson, her attorney, arose and waived examination. He asked Recorder Shannonhouse that the bond under which she would be committed to the Superior Court be made as light as possible, and then read a petition, signed by the four mercantile firms from which goods had been taken, expressing their opinion that the young woman was mentally affected. The petition was directed to Judge W. R. Allen and Solicitor Jas. L. Webb. It contained the statement that full restitution had been made to the merchants concerned. The recorder bound the defendant over to the higher court in a bond of $300, which sum was put up by the father of the young woman, who took her home later in the day. Nothing but sympathy is expressed in regard to the deplorable affair.

— The Charlotte News of Wednesday publishes a pitiful story about a case of shoplifting by a pretty young lady, neat and well dressed. She was arrested for stealing from stores two costly diamond rings, a gold watch and a handsome storm coat, seven pairs of gloves and numerous small articles. The News says: She is a lady of good name and good connections living in a North Carolina town, and the publication of her name would cause a sensation throughout the State; but for many reasons it will not be given to the public, and there will be no prosecution if the thefts are made good. The lady gives her name both as Miss Johnson and Miss Surles, of Asheville. She is now at the police station. She does not break down and weep, but sits quietly and will talk but little. When arrested she was going towards the Seaboard depot, though there is no train out before midnight. Her grips were at the Seaboard station, where she had probably left them this morning. She had taken a room at a hotel up town yesterday.

Newbro's Herpicide

The Original Remedy that "kills the Dandruff Germ."

THE HUNTERS CAME TOO LATE!

Their Faithful Dog has pointed out the True Remedy to Prevent Baldness, but the Hunters came too late---Chronic Baldness is incurable.

HERPICIDE A "HAIR-SAYER."

Newbro's Herpicide saves the hair by destroying the germ or microbe that is now known to be the cause of dandruff, falling hair and baldness. In chronic baldness the hair follicles are completely atrophied, causing the scalp to shrink and shine; little can be done in such cases except to save the remaining "fringe," and this is well worth saving, for it offers some protection against the cold.

The "Hair Grower" is a fallacy. It requires but a slight knowledge of Anatomy to know that the hair gets its life and strength from the hair-papilla at the bottom of the hair follicle, and the papilla in turn gets its nourishment direct from the blood; therefore nature is the only true hair grower. There are enemies of hair growth that cause hair loss and baldness. Invisible microbic growths enter the sebaceous glands, situated at the top of the hair follicles (Dr. Sabouraud, of Paris, says the microbe usually enters the scalp in youth), where one colony after another is established, until finally, after months and sometimes years, there is dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. The Sebum also solidifies, causing dry, lustreless and brittle hair. Destroy this microbic growth with Newbro's Herpicide and protect the hair against re-infection, and it will grow as nature intended.

Newbro's Herpicide is a Twentieth Century Remedy. Its mission is to teach new rules for scalp cleanliness, new rules for hair preservation and to supply a germ-destroying solution that will enable careful persons to have beautiful and luxuriant hair. Almost marvellous results follow the use of Herpicide, and if it does not do more than we claim for it, your dealer will refund your purchase price. As a hair dressing it is truly exquisite, on account of its dainty and refreshing odor, which is characteristic. It contains no oil, grease or sedimentary substance, neither does it stain nor dye the hair.

Stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Recommends it to Friends.

"I wish to say that I have used Herpicide and think it is very good. Have recommended it to quite a number of my lady and gentlemen friends."

The Morning Star.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

SATURDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 29.

ALL DANGER OF WAR HAS BEEN AVERTED.

By Agreement Between Great Britain and Russia the North Sea Incident Will be Settled by a Commission.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—All danger of war between London and Great Britain has been averted and the settlement of the only points in dispute regarding the attack by the Russian second Pacific squadron on British trawlers October 21st, has been referred to an international commission under The Hague convention.

Premier Balfour, speaking at a meeting of the National Union of Conservative Clubs at Southampton to-night, broke that silence which had been so long preserved and had brought the people of the United Kingdom to a condition of almost desperate irritation and given rise to misconceptions which Mr. Balfour to night himself exposed. "The Russian ambassador," said Mr. Balfour "has authorized a statement to the following effect:

"The Russian government on hearing of the North Sea incident, at once expressed its profound regret and also promised most liberal compensation. The government has ordered the detention at Vigo of that part of the fleet which was concerned in the incident, in order that the naval authorities might ascertain what officers were responsible for it; that those officers and any material witnesses would not proceed on the voyage to the Far East; that inquiry would be instituted into the facts by an international commission as provided by the Hague convention."

Mr. Balfour plainly said that Thursday evening Russia and Great Britain seemed to be on the brink of war, and yet gave the frankest praise to the attitude preserved throughout by the Emperor and the Russian government While the premier was unable to praise the pacific attitude of the government too highly, he bitterly assailed Rojesvensky's report, declaring that it was an insult to Great Britain as a neutral nation, and ridiculed its probability. The immense audience received Mr. Balfour's announcement of the settlement of the affair with unbounded enthusiasm, which was echoed throughout the kingdom when the evening extras appeared and the suspense was at rest.

The day was an eventful one in the metropolis. The population, stirred by glaring head lines in the morning papers, seemed convinced that war was inevitable. The cabinet meeting which was held at noon served to increase rather than allay anxiety. Throughout the country there had spread a deep-rooted, though perfectly erroneous idea that Great Britain had given Russia a time limit in which to reply and "Charley" Beresford, England's naval idol, was on the spot. Many indeed thought it was only a question of hours when he would be demolishing Russian ships. Without the least national desire for war, a great naval excitement had been worked up. In the streets to-night many expressions of disappointment might be heard because the crisis had not developed into hostilities. This merely voiced the opinion of the thoughtless, which comprised a considerable section of the public. No further difficulties are expected.

Russian Admiral's Statement.

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Daily Chronicle to-morrow will publish an interview had with Admiral Rojesvensky at Vigo to-day which gives a few interesting statements not yet published. The admiral is quoted as saying that when the vessels of the Russian squadron found themselves surrounded by the fishing fleet, the warships had to stop their engines continually so as not to get the screws entangled in the nets. The warships frequently gave way to the trawlers. Suddenly, the cruiser Aurora saw ahead two torpedo boats coming towards the squadron at full speed. She turned her search light on them and then noticed two floating mines close to her. An order to fire on the torpedo boats was immediately given, with the result that one of them was sunk and the other escaped and was lost amongst the trawlers. The admiral added there were two men injured on his flagship. One, a priest, had a hand shot off. Six shots were fired during the incident by the Russian vessels.

One trawler came within range of a searchlight and immediately the projector was turned skywards as an angle of forty-five degrees as a signal for the squadron not to fire on that boat. The fire lasted altogether nine minutes.

Touching upon the warship which is alleged to have remained behind, the admiral said: "Any English naval officer understands that it would be impossible for a Russian war vessel to remain behind, considering the presence of hostile torpedo boats.

"The trawlers had their lights out. I need hardly affirm to you my absolute conviction of the presence of these torpedo boats. I am very sorry for what has occurred. I did not know of it until I arrived here. I sincerely hope the matter will be settled amicably."

Detained at Vigo.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 28.—Orders have been telegraphed to Vice Admiral Rojesvensky to detain at Vigo all the warships which took part in the North Sea incident. The admiralty authorizes the statement that Admiral Rojesvensky has been instructed to remain at Vigo pending the inquiry into the North Sea incident.

M'CUE'S SON ON WITNESS STAND.

Denied Making Alleged Statements Tending to Show His Father Killed Mother.

SHARPLY CROSS-EXAMINED.

Testified That the Relations Between His Father and Mother Were Always Cordial—Testimony of Detectives Employed on Case.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

CHARLOTTESNILLE, VA., Oct. 28.—Mrs. F. A. Massey, whose residence is directly opposite the McCue residence, was the first witness called when the trial of ex-Mayor McCue was resumed to-day, the examination of Willie McCue, the defendant's son, who was on the stand when court adjourned yesterday, being temporarily suspended.

Mrs. Massey said she saw Mr. and Mrs. McCue entering the McCue house about 9 o'clock on the evening of the tragedy. After learning later of the killing of Mrs. McCue, she and her husband went over to the McCue home. The defendant, she said, was "dreadfully agitated" and told them that a burglar had shot and killed Fannie. Mrs. Massey saw no blood dripping from the wound on Mr. McCue's cheek.

When the examination of Willie McCue was resumed he denied making a statement that his mother asked him to hide a pistol and that he received a letter from his father upbraiding him for hiding it.

During the discussion by counsel as to the status of the witness Captain Woods, for the Commonwealth, said he was astounded yesterday at the testimony given by the witness, and it was not what he had anticipated; that he was now cross-examining him as an adverse witness and laying the foundation for impeachment.

The defence excepted to all the questions embodying statements, on the ground that they were alleged. The witness was taken over the ground covered yesterday, when he repeated his denials.

The son denied having held a conversation with his father at the jail, as detailed by the jailor on the stand yesterday, and denied that he had told Detective Baldwin that his father has been trying to get him to forget and not state that his mother had run into his room. He denied going to a hotel several times to meet a detective, and denied arranging with Mr. Baldwin to meet John Perry, a servant, at an appointed place. Answering the Commonwealth's attorney the witness said he and the other children left home about two weeks after the death of their mother and went to the home of Newton Dixon, in West Virginia, the latter being the father-in-law of William McCue, an uncle. The witness declared they went of their own accord, because of the strain on them here.

He testified that the relations between his father and mother were always cordial, that they had occasional differences about the children and horses, but nothing serious. He said his father gave his mother everything she wished for and that his father always kissed his wife and children when leaving. He denied stating to Ernest Crawford and Albert Baldwin when he drove his mother to the station on her last trip to Round Hill that she wept on the way. He said nothing happened at the supper table to indicate any misunderstanding between his father and mother and that they came down stairs to dinner together.

Willie McCue denied saying his mother was very jealous and had asked him to watch his father's office. He also denied saying, when viewing his mother's remains, that she wore the first peaceful look he had seen on her face.

C. J. Paoli, a druggist, said Willie McCue had said to him that if he told the truth and his father was hung, people will point at him and say his evidence hung his father.

A. H. Baldwin, a detective, who said his services were being paid for by the city of Charlottesville, testified that Willie McCue had stated in his presence that he believed his fathe had killed his mother and that they had quarrels. The witness said Willie said on one occasion his mother ran into his room, his father following with a pistol. He said Willie told him his mother was jealous of his father and had asked him to watch his father's office, which he did, reporting to his mother. He declared that Willie had said that his father and mother were mad with each other at the supper table Sept. 4th; that after supper his father followed him out on the porch saying he "was tired of this and would be damned if he put up with it another day," and that his mother was worrying a great deal about the actions of his father. Willie, he said, had agreed to get a statement from John Perry, a servant, as to what Perry had heard on the night of the murder, and identified a statement, not admitted in evidence, which he said Willie got from Perry and handed to him.

The witness said that Willie told him that his mother wept on the way to the train the last time she went away prior to the shooting. These statements, witness said, were made, some in the presence of Ernest Crawford and some in the presence of Crawford and his brother, W. G. Baldwin. The accused, he said, told him that Mrs. McCue had disrobed to go to bed, and that he was undressing before his chiffonier, when he saw in the mirror the form of a man and was subsequently knocked down, complaining of pain in his head, and that he phoned to Dr. McCue and Mr. Williams.

W. G. Baldwin, a detective, and the brother of the former witness, who said he was employed by the city and the McCues as well, said that he withdrew from the McCue side of the case a few days after the shooting. The accused told him his assailant was either a negro or a "dirty white man." He asked him who he suspected and witness thought he mentioned but one name, which was not revealed. He said he heard Willie McCue say that John Perry had heard two licks struck, and that Perry had held his mother, begging Mr. McCue not to kill her.

The statement regarding Perry was stricken out on motion of the defence, as Willie had not been questioned concerning it. Willie told in his presence, he said, that his father and mother had lived unhappily "on account of females," and that he had interrupted letters, and that Willie remarked as they viewed the remains that that was the first peaceful look on his mother's face in many days.

Edgar Crawford, a brother of Mrs. McCue, testified that he had heard Willie McCue say that his home had been "a perfect hell," and that his father and mother lived "like dogs and cats."

Ernest Crawford, another brother of Mrs. McCue, said he lived at the McCue home during 1899 and 1901, and that he had heard numerous quarrels and that it was the most unpleasant house he ever had lived in. The trouble, he said, seemed to be about women. He said the accused never struck or knocked down his wife, but that he heard him curse and abuse her in a brutal manner.

He said one quarrel was about a trip which Mr. McCue was accused of making to the pasture lot to meet a Charlottesville woman, (name not mentioned,) and that Mrs. McCue said it was not the first time she had found him in a compromising position. He said she spoke also of going to his office, finding the door locked with a woman inside, and that Mr. McCue looked "sheepish" when he came to the door.

He identified a statement which he said Willie got from Perry and said Willie had declared to him only yesterday that he would make the same statement on the stand he had made to him and corroborated the previous witness as to Willie's alleged statements concerning the McCues family life, and McCue's saying on the evening the tragedy occurred he "would be damned if he put up with it another day."

The defence objected to all testimony regarding the statements attributed to Willie McCue, the court overruling them, but admonishing the jury that the testimony relative to statements could not be used against the defendant, but for the purpose of impeachment.

Mr. Crawford admitted that he had used Mr. McCue's horses and guns and had worn his watch, but said he paid for his board. He admitted that he might have expressed admiration to a Mr. Rains for Mr. McCue as a business man, but denied that he had spoken to him of a "delightful happy home." He also denied suggesting to Baldwin that money would have to be used in a certain instance. The witness identified a letter which he wrote to Mrs. McCue from Harrisonburg, July 9, 1904, concluding with regards to her "Better half." He would not say that Mrs. McCue was indulged in everything she wanted, but admitted that she dressed "very nicely."

JAPANESE MAKE GENERAL ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR.

Capture Forts—Two Russian Steamers Sunk—Fighting Near Mukden—Russians Driven from Positions.

By Cable to the Morning Star.

GENERAL KUROKI'S HEADQUARTERS IN THE FIELD, VIA FUSAN, Oct. 28.—The Japanese gave a stirring exhibition of sharp and determined fighting yesterday. They drove the Russians from a high hill ten miles east of the railroad in General Kuroki's front, which is important strategically as a post of observation, and was the only point south of the Shakhe river which the Russians held. About a regiment of Russians were entrenched there, with five machine guns.

The Japanese rushed the Russian trenches, shot many Russians as they were running down the hillside, and captured two machine guns. The Japanese had twenty men killed and 80 wounded. The Russians left 30 dead on the field. There was hand to hand fighting when the trenches were taken. The Russians retired across the river. When the Japanese flag was raised over a tower surmounting the hill the Russian batteries showered shrapnel on it for an hour, but without results.

Fighting at Port Arthur.

TOKIO, Oct. 28, 4:30 P. M.—It is reported that the Japanese opened a desperate general attack on eastern forts of the Keewan group, north of Port Arthur, during the morning of October 26th, and silenced the Russian batteries.

Simultaneously, the Japanese attacked the forts on Ribilung mountain and Suhowhunton mountain, silenced the Russian batteries and stormed and occupied the forts in front of these mountains. On the night of October 26th there was a conflagration in old Port Arthur, and on October 27th a shell hit the Russian battleship Sevastopol and two Russian steamers were sunk.

Official confirmation of the above is lacking, but the reports are believed to be true.

COMMITTED SUICIDE.

Edgar Allen, a Prominent Republican of Richmond, Va., Shot Himself.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

RICHMOND, VA., Oct. 28.—Edgar Allen, former United States district attorney, a prominent Grand Army man and who had figured here in Republican politics since reconstruction days, was found this morning near the Union Theological Seminary, in Henrico county, with a bullet through his head and a pistol clutched in his hand. It is regarded as a clear case of suicide. On the back of a letter found on the body in lead pencil is written the following:

"Give Judge Witt my record during reconstruction. It is in Elemen-Rodes book, and my little book case, and ask him to write my true history and defend me from my defamers, of whom W. has been the worst. I hope my false friends will be truer now.

"I commend my only boy to the president, who ignores the forty years his father has given to the Republicans.

"Eddie, Edith, Iola, Edgar, Stella and the little ones will grieve for me, but don't blame me, for I have done my best for you all my life."

WARM WIRELETS

The employes of the Lynchburg, Va., cotton mill have been notified that beginning next week their wages will be restored to the same figures that they were previous to last February when by reason of the high price of cotton and the low price of goods they were reduced 10 per cent.

News reached Brunswick, Ga., yesterday of a fatal accident at Satilla Bluff, Ga. The large boilers in the mill of the Hilton-Dodge Lumber Company exploded. The mill property was practically demolished. Three negro workmen were killed outright. The body of one man was blown across the river.

JUDGE PARKER MAKES PREDICTION.

Believes That Victory Will Be With the Democratic Party in the Coming Election.

HIS SPEECH TO DELEGATIONS.

Composed Largely of Farmers from Orange and Rockland Counties, N. Y.—Reply to Senator Knox—Tariff Matters Discussed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

ESOPUS, N. Y., October 28.—Judge Parker to-day made his first public prediction as to the outcome of the election. In his speech to delegations composed largely of farmers from Orange and Rockland counties, New York, was interpolated the following:

"Before taking up the subject I wish to discuss I want to assure you that if we work hard enough, if we each do our part, we can win this fight. I have not felt like saying so until lately, but we are growing so rapidly that if our people do their best I do believe victory will be ours."

Judge Parker said:

"No more satisfactory evidence of the widespread public interest in the attempt to control the election by moneys of great corporations and trusts need be looked for than that furnished by the President and his late Attorney General Knox. Knox was bidden to the presence of the President for a consultation. About what? About the iniquity of the large contributions being made by gigantic corporations and trusts? Not at all. But rather to devise means by which the force of the statement of this commonly accepted fact could be parried. The outcome was an interview by Senator Knox.

"Now this long statement of Senator Knox has nothing whatever to do with the question uppermost in the public mind.

"Shall the creations of government—many of which pursue illegal methods—control our elections—control them by moneys belonging to their stockholders—moneys not given in the open, and charged upon the books as moneys paid for political purposes, but hidden away by false book-keeping?

"This interview was intended to create a cloud of dust behind which he hoped to hide the charge he did not answer, and could not answer. That charge is that vast sums of money have been contributed for the control of this election in aid of the administration by corporations and trusts."

Judge Parker said trust officials were active in behalf of his opponent, and continued, "that activity may perhaps account in no small measure for the ability of both the Populist and Socialist parties to prosecute expensive campaigns—campaigns that appear to be prosecuted largely in aid of the Republican party.

"The administration also puts out a cablegram from Governor Wright, of the Philippine commission, in reply to some quotations made by me in a speech delivered on the 15th day of October. The words quoted were the careful utterances of a man who has spent four months in the Philippines studying the conditions there. He is vouched for by Charles Francis Adams, Carl Schurz, Edwin Burritt Smith, Herbert Welsh and Moorfield Storey. I ask you, and through you the American people, to examine Governor Wright's cablegram in connection with that report and answer these questions:

"Do you believe the man thus vouched for by six of the best citizens in this country? Which is likely to be prejudiced? The man having no motive but to learn the truth, or the governor who may be in some measure responsible for the unfortunate conditions?

"Is the governor a representative of such a character as to justify an expenditure by the government of several hundred dollars to cable a part of my speech to Manila and to receive his reply by cable? It was not government business. It was political business.

"If a few hundred dollars may be taken out from the public funds to thus assist the prosecution of a political campaign, may not the money in the treasury be employed for any purpose that will help the campaign? How do we know but it is? This is one of the evidences of the growth of imperialism.

"The head of the government 'can do no wrong.'

"An assault upon his policy is an assault upon the people, and hence the people's money can be legitimately used for his vindication.

"My speech, charging administrative extravagance, seems also to have created some excitement. And to this the administration puts forward Horace A. Taylor. He makes a statement after a call on the President.

"Now you will observe that he nowhere challenges the figures given by me. They cannot be questioned. They show that after taking the fifty millions paid for the Panama canal and rights the government spent one hundred and sixty millions more last year than it did seven years ago under a Democratic administration. The deficit for the present fiscal year to October 25th is over twenty-one millions as against $1,141,204 for identically the same period last year.

"Returning to Acting Secretary Taylor's interview: It would seem as if its purpose—if it had beyond that of creating a mist—was to deny my assertion that there were 'administrative orders forbidding government officers from making public any statements of estimates upon which future appropriations are based.' My answer is that the treasury department issued this order:

"'Treasury Department, Office of the Secretary, September 7, 1904—To the heads of bureaus and chiefs of divisions:

"'Gentlemen: It is requested that no information bearing upon the estimates of this department for the fiscal year ending June 30th, 1906, be made public until the estimates shall have been approved by the honorable secretary of the treasury.

"'By direction of the secretary.

(Signed) "'W. H. Hillis,
"'Chief Clerk.'"

"I have copies of orders issued to other departments which I took the precaution to obtain before making public the statement now challenged."

Judge Parker then took up the tariff question, which he discussed at some length from the standpoint of the farmer, saying he has suffered even more possibly than the wage-earner by excessive tariff duties. Judge Parker referred to the higher prices under protection as an assessment on the consumer, and asked:

"Now do you think the law ought to compel you to continue to pay an assessment every time you or the members of your family buy an article of clothing or buy anything to use? That is precisely what we have been doing until we have concentrated the wealth and power in this country in comparatively a few hands. There are said to be 453 combinations of trusts in this country.

"In order to make many of these combinations pay good dividends on the watered stock, the tariff taxes, they say, must be kept up. And so these combinations are trying to give success to the Republican party because that party and its president have notified the country that they stand pat, as they call it, on the tariff, which means that they will not interfere with it."

COLORADO MINE EXPLOSION.

From Thirty to Sixty Men Lost Their Lives—Mine Burning and Probabilities Bodies Will be Consumed.

By Telegraph to the Morning Star.

TRINIDAD, COLO., Oct. 28.—From thirty to sixty men lost their lives in a terrific explosion which occurred at Mine No. 3, of the Ruby Mountain Fuel and Iron Company, at Tercio, forty miles west of Trinidad, this afternoon. The exact number of dead may never be known as the mine is burning and in all likelihood the bodies will be consumed. A large number of mine officials left here as soon as word of the accident was received. The company doctors were picked up all along the line as well as all available physicians. F. J. Foreman, a government stock inspector, was at Tercio when the explosion occurred. He returned to-night and gave the following account of the affair:

"I was standing not more than three hundred yards from the mouth of the tunnel when the explosion occurred. The explosion was preceded by a low rumbling sound resembling an earthquake, which made the earth tremble and startled the whole neighborhood. I looked toward the mine, and out of the mouth of the tunnel and two air-shafts came a great volume of smoke and dust which continued for nearly a minute. Out of the two air-shafts, each of which is seven feet in diameter, timbers that were fully two to three feet in diameter were shot into the air and broken into splinters. Rocks were thrown over the camp for a distance of a quarter of a mile. In fact, it rained rocks, broken timbers and all kinds of debris for fully a minute and many people were injured by being struck with these missles.

"The explosion, which resembled a volcanic eruption, caused the wildest excitement. Men, women and children rushed to the mouth of the tunnel and women whose husbands were in the mine had to be brought away by miners to prevent their being killed by the deadly fumes coming from the mouth of the tunnel."
